

Country Morning Music

Tell you all about the sky tell you about when i get high sing a Mississippi with a crooked letter i and pick a jack-o-lantern for a hunk a pumpkin pie hey darlin' what do you know can you stop a while to say hello hey darlin' run through the 'bacca patch sing high skip'n through the rain hound dog bay'n at a cottontail run'n the sticker bush staying on his trail smoke house fell apart last fall bacon didn't mind at all heard a ban't rooster tell the horses in the stall he was doing up a number 'bout the time he heard it fall hey darlin' what do you say will you stop and stay a little here today raindrops fall'n on a tin top sound'n like a hambone tune chipmunk chirp'n out a melody moan'n like a Memphis city slicker with the blues honey sits upon the shelf I sat there too until I left a copperhead sit'n the middle of himself kept stick'n out his forked tongue and talked himself to death

Hey darling my but you're fine can you stop and stay a little here sometime flint rock is bust'n' in the bonfire cornfield bending in the breeze bare feet fleeting on a foot path walking off forever through the country morn'n dew
