

The Last Line

I've given my life
to songs that i sing
as matter of fact
i've given everything
but time has come to not make a sound
time has come to lay my burden down

oh whoa
oh whoa
it's come from behind
now is the time
for the last line

i've managed to keep some friends on my side and lived through the time of the rumors and lies but now is the time
to rest my heart
let some other innocent fool take my part

oh whoa
oh whoa
it's come from behind
and now is the time
for the last line
the last line

oh whoa whoa
oh whoa
it's come from behind
and now is the time
for the last line

so don't pay me no mind
i'm walk'n away
you'll see me again
on some other day
you'll see me again
i'll be ready to go to pour out my songs
with my heart and my soul

oh whoa
oh whoa
it's come from behind
now is the time
for the last line

it's come from behind
and now is the time
for the last line
yeah the last line

by Keith Sykes © 1977