

You Were Going Crazy Then

you were going crazy then so was i and baby when you passed me and caught my eye i felt our love begin i was chase's after you it was the only thing to do for i was hooked on just one look and i thought that you were too

you were the kind of girl who would never leave me blue unless he was a handsome man and i could understand
and i'd probably dig him too

we would dance the boogaloo lie the other folks would do except you would slide and i'd abide by give'n you plenty of room and we were happy all the time even if the sun didn't shine for we would leave before we'd grieve and groove our grief behind

you were the kind of girl
who would never leave me blue
unless he was a handsome man
and i could understand
and i'd probably dig him too

you were the kind of girl
who would never leave me blue
unless he was a handsome man
and i could understand
and i'd probably dig him too

written by keith sykes © 1968