

You Better Be Ready To Dance

Making my way west out of Tucumcari rolling on 104 i was heading that way so i could say hey to a friend from times before when i turned the corner i couldn't believe the sight i saw up ahead it made music and words in my heart and here's what it said chorus

you better be ready
you better be ready to dance
out in New Mexico
they move with a flow that looks like romance you'll never forgive yourself
if you miss this chance
you better be ready
you better be ready to dance

all the rest of that day with the world around me passing by like a dream i was singing along with the words of my song changing with each passing scene i met up with my friend who was playing that night at the Cleveland roller mill when the music came off of the stage on one could stand still

you better be ready
you better be ready to dance
out in New Mexico
they move with a flow that looks like romance
you'll never forgive yourself
if you miss this chance
you better be ready
you better be ready to dance

it just goes to show when you least expect it life'll take a brand new twist you hear a few bars of a quiet guitar and suddenly you can't resist something inside says get out on the floor and with a little push you might so i say is your day and tonight is your night

you better be ready
you better be ready to dance
out in New Mexico
they move with a flow that looks like romance
you'll never forgive yourself
if you miss this chance
you better be ready
you better be ready to dance